PASS HAT FOR LAMONT VICTIMS:

ACT Sets 14-Year Record At Show

THIS IS where tragedy struck. A bus loaded with senior high school students paused at a level railway crossing Nov. 29 at Lamont. The driver gazed down the track, then edged the vehicle forward over the crossing. He had apparently not seen a freight train bearing down at 50 miles an hour. Sixteen children —14 girls and two boys—were killed outright. One of 28 injured pupils died later. The place and the tragedy are marked by front wheels of bus on platform of the railway station near the crossing.

400 Attend First Performance, Second Needed To Handle Overflow

The all-time record in 14 years of ACT Search For Talent shows was set in Lac la Biche Dec. 3 when $1,336 was realized. Two shows were required because of an overflow crowd at the scheduled 7:30 p.m. performance. Proceeds from Lac la Biche have swelled the total collected in seven shows to nearly as much as collected last year at the halfway mark of the 23 shows run.

ACT officials passed the hat during the performances and collected $30.50 for the Chipman Lions benefit fund which will help families meet funeral and hospital expenses for victims of the Lamont bus-train crash which claimed 17 lives. This will be in addition to $300 donated to the fund by ACT from the Chipman Search for Talent show held a few days before the tragedy.

Four of the girls who were killed appeared on the Chipman show: Margaret Winnick, who took first place; Jean Ozdoba, who took second place, and Bernadette Hayduk and Maria Pavich, also on the program. Veronia Yanchuk who performed, was injured.

At the Lac la Biche show, Miss Lyne Breau of Lac la Biche won first prize with a piano solo. Second prize went to Louise Hogetetrieit of Rich Lake for her accordian solo. Third prize went to Gillman Moe of Lac la Biche for his vocal solo with guitar and accordion accompaniment.

Other contestants included Boys' choir of 30 voices; Seven Tap Dancers; Annette Hrynyk, solo; Marie and Brian Cadieux, song with accordion and guitar; Clara Munawich, song; Larry McEachern, song; Donald Stubberfield, saxophone solo.

Verna Thompson, solo; Shirley Gauthier, song; Paul Kalnatisky, vocal solo with guitar; Miss Luke and Miss Daken, dialogue; Virginia and Georgia Medwed, vocal duet; Joanne Cadzow and Rita Marchildon, Hawaiian dance in native costume; Doris and Diane Inkster, vocal duet with mandolin and guitar accompaniment; Lynn Breau, piano solo; Yvonne Prouly, song; Gloria, Margaret and Arthur Hansen, vocal trio, unaccompanied;

Nick Torresan, song with guitar; Bertha Boucher, vocal solo; Gillman Moe, vocal solo with guitar and accordion accompaniment; Louise Hogetetrieit, accordion solo; Cecile Dragon, song; Edmund Ulliac and party, instrumental number.

An ACT official said the response this year has been most gratifying. He observed that the largest single reason for the increased attendance was the elimination of the popular vote. An adjudicator chooses winning contestants on the basis of performance. The Lac la Biche judge was Mrs. Mollie Kvittem of Edmonton. ACT crew captain was George Harasim.

The lucky ticket on the door prize, a wrist watch, was held by Myron Smolarchuk. The advance ticket sale was conducted by the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Lac la Biche Legion.

Program prize winner for the first show was Mrs. George Sukan. The door prize at the second show was won by Emil Zachkewich of Spruce Valley and Mrs. W. E. Huppie of Lac la Biche.

Chipman's 5 Saddest Days Conclude With Mass Burial

The saddest five days in the history of the little village of Chipman drew to a close last Saturday as burial services followed all-night prayer services for 16 of 17 teenagers killed in the school bus - train crash at Lamont, 37 miles east of Edmonton. Well over 10,000 persons walked past the open caskets which were placed in the school auditorium.

Parents, relatives and neighbors for miles around gathered to attend the burial services for 14 of the 17 young victims who died when a fast-moving freight train sliced through a school bus at a no-signal rural crossing.

Three other victims, Darleen Reinhardt, Wayne Zappichny and Bernadette Hayduck, all 16, were buried in the Edmonton district Friday and Saturday.

The bodies of the girls were in white caskets.

The prayer service for the dead was held in the Chipman school gymnasium. It was conducted in four faiths, Roman Catholic, Ukrainian Catholic, Russian Greek Orthodox and Ukrainian Orthodox. Parts of the service were in English, Ukrainian and Polish, intermingled with Latin.

A 20-voice choir from the Ukrainian Catholic Church at Mundare sang during the service.

The townspeople gathered for mass funeral services and burial of the dead Saturday morning.

Solemn high masses were held continuously every 25 minutes in the school auditorium for seven of victims — Marie Anne Theresa Pavich, Genevieve Ludwig, Kathleen Malkewich, Sylvia Bernice Sawatski, Joannie Kozdrowski, Jean Victoria Ozdoba and Terence Louis Wuetherick. A mass for all seven was to be held at 11 a.m. in the school.

Rev. M. P. Kaluzny, Roman Catholic priest from Mundare, celebrated mass for the seven Roman Catholic victims. Most Rev. Anthony Jordan, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Edmonton, was to be present at the service. The seven were buried later in the church cemetery at Chipman.

At 9:30 a.m. services were held in the Ukrainian Catholic Church for Vivian Sharun, Rosalin Mildred Grace Pylypchuck and Geraldine Koshka. A Ukrainian Catholic Mass for Bernadette Hayduk was to be held at Calmar.

Bodies of Miss Sharun and Miss Koshka were buried at Chipman, while the body of Miss Pylypchuk was burried in Edmonton. Burial of Miss Hayduk was in the church cemetery at Calmar.

At 11:55 a.m. services were held in St. John the Baptist Russian Orthodox Church for four other victims — Shirley Anne Daskaluk, Dianne Sonia Antoniuk, Margaret Margaret Lois Winnick and Barbara Anne Pewarchuk. Miss Daskaluk was buried in St. Mary's Church Cemetery at nearby Sheskovtze, the other three in the parish church at Chipman.

The service for Wayne Zapotichney was held at 10 a.m. Saturday in St. Elia Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church in Edmonton, with burial following in Edmonton.

Grassland Students Watch Harlem Team

On Nov. 26 some 30 students of the district motored to Edmonton in Wilfred Johnson's bus to watch the famous Harlem team play.

They reached the city about noon and spent the day in various pursuits. Later they met at the bus and travelled out to the University campus.

A dazzling display of basketball was given them by the Harlem team.

The students left Edmonton about midnight and returned safely to Grassland after an exciting day.

The students are grateful to Mr. Semeniuk for acting chaperon and to Mr. Johnson for transport.

This is the second trip the students have had this term, for first being to the show "Samson and Delila" at Lac la Biche.

Films Enjoyed By Nimble Thimble Club

The Grassland Nimble Thimble club held their meeting on the stage at Grassland school, with Gladys Duniec presiding.

The major part of the evening was spent watching a film shown by nurse Mrs. Roseann Alkisuit and slides on "Good Grooming" shown by Miss McCutcheon.

Irene Rybicki and Bonnie Seminuik demonstrated the way to wash a sweater.

It was decided to have Ruth Yurichka and Jennette Duneic act as hostesses at the Dec. 12 meeting.

The meeting was adjourned with the singing of "God Save the Queen."

Mr. and Mrs. M. Homeniuk Honored On Silver Wedding Anniversary

SPRUCE VALLEY — On the evening of Nov. 26, the Grassland Community Centre was the scene of activity when many friends and relatives gathered to honor Mr. and Mrs. Mike Homeniuk of Grassland on their 25th wedding anniversary with a surprise party.

Approximately 170 guests gathered to congratulate the couple on their 25 years of marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Homeniuk were ushered in early in the evening. They were attended by the same bridesmaids that attended them 25 years ago, which were Mrs. Kathleen Lasky of Edmonton, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Kay Wojwitka of Edson, sister of the groom. The best men were Mike Polowaniuk of Star, who also attended them 25 years ago, Peter Borduzik of Vimy replaced the other best man who was unable to attend at this time.

The wedding table was decorated with a large vase in which was placed a large bouquet of large white chrysanthemums and mauve babymums, presented from their children, Ernie and Grace. A three-layer square wedding cake centred the table.

A hot buffet supper was served by the ladies. Tony Zilinski proposed the toast to the bride.

Master of ceremonies Jack Wojwitka gave an appropriate speech. He then called on the groom, who in turn expressed his appreciation on behalf of himself and his wife Alma, to all the people present for helping them celebrate this special occasion. He also reviewed some of the hardships they had to go through, especially during the first years of farming. Mike Kordyban and Ernie Homeniuk each also made short speeches.

Congratulatory telegrams were read from Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kordyban, Prince George, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Young of Vancouver, B.C., and from Pete Rybicki of Edson.

Mr. and Mrs. Homeniuk both lived at Waugh, where they were married. They then moved to the Grassland district where they took up farming on a homestead. They are the parents of two children, Grace, a teacher, is attending university in British Columbia. Ernie is a student at the University of Alberta. Both are studying in Education.

After the supper the guests danced to the music of an orchestra from Winterburn.

At the conclusion of the evening the couple were presented with gifts which they opened. They received an electric Sunbeam fry pan from Grace and Ernie; an electric clock, a replica of a ship, from Mr and Mrs. Mike Kordyban, the bride's parents; a Community plate eight-piece setting silverware set in the White Orchid design from the sisters and brothers of the bride and groom of 25 years. Mr. Chromiak presented the couple with a beautiful turquoise recliner chair as a gift from the many friends gathered there.

Mike Homeniuk then thanked everyone for the gifts with a short speech, after which a buffet lunch was served.

Out-of-town guests attending included Mr. and Mrs. Pete Borduzik, Vimy; Mr. and Mrs. John Kordyban and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hrymiuk, Winterburn; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wojwitka, Darlene and Jackie Wojwitka, Mrs. Anne Rybicki, Gary Rybicki, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Walker, all of Edson; Mr. and Mrs. F. Opolski, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kordyban, Mr. and Mrs. John Kordyban, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kordyban, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Dowhaniuk and Mr. M. W. Civil Service Asks Raise

An upward revision of salaries throughout the provincial government service was requested by the Civil Service Association convention. The delegates gave near-unanimous approval to a resolution asking the association executive to press the government for a general salary raise.

The resolution argued that private business continually revises classifications and salaries to keep pace with changing conditions, and many civil servants are experiencing difficulty in meeting increasing living costs.

The convention rejected another resolution which asked for an immediate 20 per cent increase for all government employees with salaries up to $300 a month, and a 10 per cent increase for employees paid from $300 per month to $5,000 per year.

A third resolution, asking for a general and retroactive relaxation of the "freezing" regulations instituted in this year's pay reclassification plan ,was sent back to committee for further study. The resolution claimed employees may have been induced to enter government service by the salary schedule previously in effect.

An Edmonton man, L. Stewart, was elected president of the Civil Service Association of Alberta at the conclusion of its three-day convention.

Stewart, an employee of the health department, succeeded Anthony Earnshaw, who retired from the post after seven years.

George Wilson, an employee at the mental institute of Ponoka, and James Johnson of the liquor board in Edmonton were elected vice-presidents.

THE Homemaker

By BERTHA M. McCUTCHEON

During the cooler months (November to March) more pork is consumed than in summer. Due to the large proportion of fat in pork, it has a high satiety (filling qualities) and makes the body feel warmer. Another reason for the higher pork sales during the winter months is that it keeps better in cool weather.

McCutcheon

Pork may be frozen, but not as successfully as other meats are frozen. It should be stored at 0 degrees F. or lower. Fresh pork will keep well up to six or eight months. Freezing pork 30 days at 0 degrees F. or lower removes danger of trichinosis.

Trichinosis is the term given to a disease caused by infestation with the trichina worm. The adult female lays eggs in the small intestines of swine. These eggs hatch immediately, liberating larvae, which penetrate into the blood stream and lodge in various muscles of the body. When uncooked or improperly cooked pork is eaten by the next host, the larvae are liberated and the cycle starts again in the host's body. Humans, bears and pets may become infested in a similar manner.

According to the magazine "Patterns", 25,000,000 to 30,000,000 Americans carry trichina larvae in their muscles and internal organs. In large city markets up to 10 percent of the pork sausages are infected. In about 80 percent of the infected humans, there are no symptoms (facial swellings, fever, muscle aches, etc.) because they have relatively few trichina per pound of muscle. Every American consumes about three servings of infested pork per year.

There is no satisfactory method of treating this condition, so prevention depends on halting the spread of the disease. Cooking destroys the encysted larvae and breaks the life cycle. If you like pork roasts, cook them a minimum of forty minutes per pound at 325 degrees F. Roasts with the bones removed require a longer cooking period. One inch chops need at least 30 minutes cooking time on each side.

The A B C's of storing leftover pork:

A—Letting leftover cooked meat stand at room temperature until cool, before refrigerating it, may be risky.

B—Refrigerating warm meat at once does not impair its flavor. Meat may be cooled quickly—in about ½ hour—then refrigerated. Never let meat stand longer than two hours.

C—Plan to use up leftover meat within four days.

PREFERS PASSING GAME:

Parker Envies Rote's Job

Jackie Parker, the greatest running quarterback in the history of Canadian football, would gladly trade jobs with Tobin Rote, the passing man of Toronto Argonauts.

"I'd rather see a passing game than a running one any day," Parker said in a statement that seems surprising coming from a footballer who has become rich and famous in the run-happy Edmonton offence.

Parker, three time winner of the Schenley Award as Canada's outstanding football player, quoted his team-mate Don Getty on the subject of quarterbacks.

"Show me a running QB and I'll tell you what hospital he's in," Getty told his famous mate, and Jackie has had every injury in the book "plus a few of his own" as the price he has paid for being the target of every assassin in the league.

Parker said he has learned to throw the drop back pass and figures it would be heaven to play for a team such as Argos where that is all the QB has to do.

"I just hope that some day I'll be able to play for that kind of a team," Parker continued. "You don't have to take the pounding you do on a club where you have to run for your life on half of the pass plays."

Jackie claims the Eskimos call from 25 to 30 passes a game. But they do not throw that many because most of these are option calls and the QB takes off when he can't find his man open. It gives the defensive men a much better shot at Parker than they get at Rote or Sam Etcheverry. Just by comparison Etcheverry hasn't missed a game since 1952 while Parker, who is certainly as tough and courageous, has sat out 10 and played a dozen others when doctors advised him to stay in the dressing room.

JACKIE PARKER. Edmonton Eskimos quarterback was named as the outstanding football player in Canada for an unprecedented third time. As winner of the Schenley award he is entitled to $1,000 and the trophy. Parker has captured the award in three of the past four years.

Since he likes the drop back pass, the obvious question is why Parker doesn't throw it against Winnipeg and open up the Bomber defence that has been stacked to stop the Edmonton running.

"They just won't let me throw that kind of a pass," Jackie related. A bit of advice which could prove valuable to Rote and Co. should they meet Winnipeg in the Grey Cup next year.

Winnipeg can put a better rush on than any team I've ever played," Parker related. "If they know you are going to pass, they'll get you without even shooting a linebacker. If Argos couldn't keep the Ottawa line off Rote's back, I don't see how they could stop Winnipeg."

Jackie went on to relate his own sad experience in 1958 when the Eskimos moved into Winnipeg for the final game with a crocked ball club. With their regular halfbacks injured, Parker was moved to left halfback and Don Getty started at QB. The Bombers, according to Parker, just rushed Getty off his feet because they knew all Edmonton had left was the pass.

Chief Of Police Driven To Quit By Crime Wave

MONTREAL (UPI)—Police Director J. Albert Langlois turned in his resignation in the face of mounting criticism of police handling of a crime wave.

His resignation, apparently under pressure from Mayor Jean Drapeau's administration, was turned in at a time when the city is experiencing one of Canada's worst crime waves.

Mayor Drapeau flew to Europe last week and arranged to hire a Scotland Yard expert and a former director of the Paris police prefecture to reorganize the force.

The two European experts are scheduled to start work here next month.

Ontario Charges To Consumers Will Affect Alberta Gas Exports

Ontario natural gas distributing companies will have to gain approval from the Ontario government for rates they charge for Alberta natural gas. This is similar to the situation in Alberta, where the Board of Public Utilities Commissioners sets the per cent rate that a utilities company is allowed as a return on its investment.

Ontario companies have, in past, charged rates that would allow them a seven per cent return. In Alberta, the rate set by the Canadian Manufacturing industries is approximately ten per cent, and the return to pulp and paper companies is approximately 13 per cent.

The rate that the Ontario companies will be allowed to and what charge will affect the export of natural gas from Alberta, as most of the gas used in the East comes from Alberta.

The cost of heating a home varies greatly from Eastern to Western Canada. Calgary and Lethbridge have the cheapest rates, as they are near the centre of gas producing areas. Transportation and the maintenance of transportation facilities is one of the major expenses of gas companies exporting gas to Eastern Canada.

The cost of heating the average home in various cities across Canada: Calgary-Lethbridge $98.72; Edmonton, $104.60; Red Deer, $124.20; Regina $155.50; Winnipeg, $193.90; Windsor, $229.83; Vancouver, $268.80; Toronto, $292.70; Montreal, $301.50.

Thus in Eastern Canada it is often cheaper to buy American coal for home heating purposes than either Maritime coal or Western Canadian gas. This higher cost of natural gas is compensated for by its being more convenient

The rates charged to householders for natural gas has in the past year or so, however, tended to place natural gas on a competative basis with both coal and fuel oil.

Ontario's utilities commission must ensure that the gas companies charge a fair rate for their commodity, but they also must ensure that the gas companies can operate at a profit.

Additional Telephone Service Begins

THE TELEPHONE OPERATOR plays an important part in the life of a community. In Boyle these operators will be on duty to give the village 24 service, their pleasant voices will call out "number please" at any time of the day or night from now on as the Boyle exchange changes over to offer a continuous service.

This Week Brings Continuous Service To Village of Boyle

The exterior of the Alberta Government Telephone building looks just the same as it did one month ago but there have been great changes within. For this week the village of Boyle will be served with a continuous telephone service.

Extra lengths of cable, many more circuit switches, racks and counters are visible changes marking the changeover to 24-hour service.

Mrs. Thompson of Boyle is the local agent and under her capable hands the lines are kept free of snags and the general business management is cared for. Mrs. Thompson has a staff of three. Mrs. Brooks is the operator and Miss Barbara Dunsby has the duties of relief operator. Mr. Thompson is also on hand to take calls and offer his services wherever they are needed.

As Boyle and the surrounding area progresses this is a large factor in the growth of the community for many reasons. Possibly the first benefit felt will be the fact that all residents now know if they need a doctor at any time of the night they will be able to reach one by telephone. It has been a real hardship for those in need of medical service in the night prior to this week, for as Boyle does not have a doctor, residents have spent hours before being able to get help.

Commercial travellers and business and pleasure visitors to Boyle will be grateful to be able to make business calls or calls home after hours, and this service is certainly welcomed by anyone far from home.

Then of course the local businessmen do need the use of the telephone at almost any hour and this will be an additional help to their ever-increasing sales and service.

Lastly it is always a pleasure for the tired mother or young person to get their friends on the telephone in the evening and have a relaxing conversation of the day's events.

And so as Boyle gets the green light for 24-hour telephone service there will be very few in the village or the surrounding vicinity that do not benefit in some way by the addition of such a valuable service.

One trouble with Russians who think they want to co-operate is that they don't know how to co-operate democratically. There is no such thing in Communist dogma.

Alice Warren Bride Of Leo Soroka In Double-Ring Ceremony At Hylo

The Hylo Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Nov. 25 when Miss Alice Lucille Warren and Mr. Leo Soroka pledged marriage vows.

Rev. S. L. Munroe officiated at the double-ring ceremony for the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Warren and the third eldest son of Mrs. M. Soroka and the late Mr. Soroka of Boyle.

Mrs. G. McEachern presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a floor-length gown of traditional white nylon net over satin with a lace band on the bouffant skirt. The fitted bodice of lace featured dainty pearls and sequins on the front and lace lily-point sleeves. Her chapel-length veil was held in place by a tiara, glittering with sequins and rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of red roses and lilies - of - the - valley with lace streamers and buds.

Mrs. W. K. Moore of Spruce Grove, sister of the groom, was matron of honor and she wore a gold taffeta sheath dress with a shawl and white accessories.

Bridesmaids were Miss Olga Warren, sister of the bride, Miss Joanne Rosychuk and Miss Adelma Hartley, who wore waltz-length dresses of net over satin with tiny lace ruffles covering the full skirts and matching lace jackets with lace collars in turquoise, light pink and deep rose, respectively. They wore matching headdresses and matching nosegays of carnations and lilies-of-they-valley.

Attendants of the groom were Mr. Ray Warren of Dawson, Mr. David Bilowus of Boyle, Mr. Elbert Warren and Mr. W. K. Moore of Spruce Grove. They were all dressed in charcoal grey suits and white shirts, similar to the groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Warren chose a deep blue lace dress with tiny tiers on the skirt and wore white accessories and a delicate pink rose corsage.

The groom's mother wore a powder blue lace dress, a blue feather hat and a red rose corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception for over 100 guests was held in the Hylo Hall, which was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers.

The bride's table was draped with white bridal cloth and centred with a three-tier wedding cake which was decorated with a miniature bride and groom and roses. Bouquets of red and yellow carnations also decorated the table.

After the presentation of gifts and money a dance followed with music by Kozakewich's Orchestra of Craigend. Lunch was served at midnight and dancing continued till 2:00 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Soroka will make their home on the farm in the Hylo district.

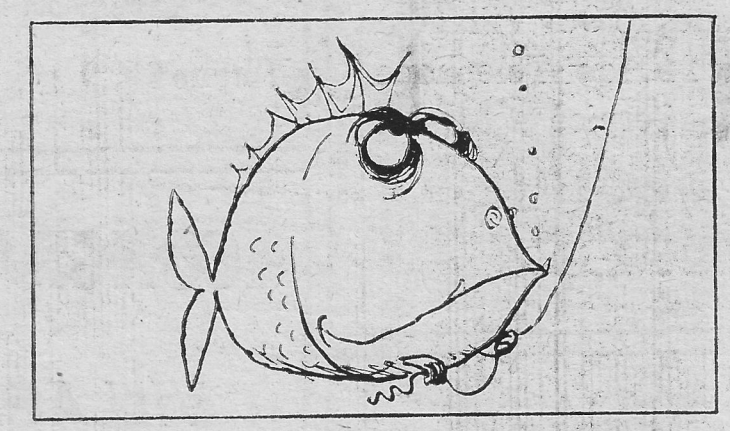
John S. Lund, 70, Honored At Party

BOYLE — On Sunday, Nov. 27, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Lund and family were guests at a surprise birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Alexander. The occasion was in honor of John S. Lund, who celebrated his 70th birthday on Nov. 29.

Trueman Lund presented a television set to his father on behalf of all Mr. Lund's sons and daughters and their families.



YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE ONE THAT GOT AWAY

In the beginning it was a question of who ate whom. For a while it must have been touch and go whether man went fishing or fish went manning. Looking around we assume man won out.

At first man competed with earth's other creatures—today men compete with other men to develop nature's energy sources. In the process our standard of living has sky-rocketed.

Competition has helped Canadians achieve one of the world's highest living standards. Take the way it works in the oil business—Imperial Oil and hundreds of other companies compete to supply Canadians with oil. As a result, oil is available at reasonable prices wherever it is needed—and Canadians have turned to oil for more than half their energy needs.

Discusses Other Business At Regular Town Council Meet

Purchase of land for a new recreation centre was considered at the last regular meeting of the McMurray town council, held on Nov. 28. V. A. Wood, provincial director of lands, stated in a letter that a site in the same block which council had chosen for the centre, is being sought after by both the Canadian Legion and Canadian Utilities.

He suggested that representatives of all interested parties meet and reach an agrement. If not, the land will be put up for sale by sealed tenders.

In other business, the purchase of a new police vehicle to replace the present one was requested because of the general unsatisfactory condition of the present vehicle, which will require extensive repairs in the near future. The secretary-treasurer was asked to write several Edmonton auto dealers, inquiring about prices of 1960 sedan deliveries, and the trade-in value of the present panel.

The condition of the airport hill was discussed, and it was decided that a letter be sent to the Department of Highways requesting that the hill be kept sanded as it is in very icy condition.

A survey and report on the town's insurance was made by Sladden's Limited, advising the town of the cost for complete coverage, with a suggestion of what insurance should be had.

Davis-Armstrong Ltd. advised the town that their General Comprehensive Liability policy will expire on Jan. 7, 1961. It was decided to leave the matter of application for renewal of the policy until the next meeting.

The possibility of purchasing canned goods, flour, sugar, and other foodstuffs, for distribution to relief cases was discussed. These would be stored in the town offices if purchased. After some discussion, it was decided to leave the matter until a later meeting.

A representative of the Sun Publishing Co. of Edmonton, present at the meeting, informed the council that the company is considering the insertion of a couple of pages in the Lac la Biche Herald which will carry news from McMurray and Waterways. The representative pointed out that there is the possibility that McMurray will receive its own newspaper sometime in the future.

Present at the meeting were Deputy Mayor Cochrane, Councillors Anderson, McKinnon and Verhesen, and guests Mrs. Duncan, Mrs. Fraser and Constable Riddle.

CKUA Manager Says BBG Ruling Could Stifle Radio Debates

A recent ruling by the Board of Broadcast Governors dealing with "Equal opportunity" threatens the survival of the 18-year-old weekly radio program, Town Meeting in Canada, according to Arthur Helps, originator and moderator of the show.

He refers to a Vancouver radio political broadcast which was banned in September by the BBG, on orders from Dr. Andrew Stewart, chairman, and formerly head of the University of Alberta. An earlier debate was used and the substitute show was aired over CKUA Edmonton in a Sunday night program slot.

Mr. Helps terms the BBG action "a violation of the principles of free speech."

Jack Hagerman, CKUA manager, told the Sun that the interpretation of the ruling by he BBG could have the effect of stifling public debate on the air. He feared it could be the thin edge of the wedge which could lead to eventual loss of Canadian freedom of speech.

It was the second time in a year that a Town Meeting show was banned. Last time the show was broadcast on CJOR Vancouver and stopped by the BBG before it was heard on other independent Canadian radio stations. It dealt with the seamen's union strike and despite efforts of Mr. Help's a week in advance to afford officials of the Canadian Brotherhood of Rail way and Transport Workers to tell their story on the program, no one appeared. The program went ahead without representation from CBRT.

In September, the topic of the banned broadcast was "What are the National Issues Between the Liberals and the Conservatives?"

There were no Conservatives on the show, Helps said, because at the last minute John R. Taylor, MP., withdrew and no replacements could be obtained from the party.

Taking part were Liberals Frank Lewis and Arthur Laing and independent Walter Dent.

Helps, who had been a Liberal candidate in the last provincial election, stepped down as moderator and handed the job over to CCF-er William Dennison.

About the BBG chairman's action, Helps said: "It proves that the rule of equal opportunity for all sides can be used and abused to effect the perversion of free speech."

He has done about a thousand broadcasts, he said and follows only the rule that the program give the public all sides of an issue and let the listeners make up their own mind.

Illegal Watch Pedlars Look For City Suckers

Illegal watch pedlars are operating in downtown Edmonton, the Sun learned from Bill Ross, an employee of a downtown department store.

He quoted a city by-law which states that a street salesman must pay $25 per and an additional five dollars per day to operate on city streets. "These watch salesmen don't do it," he said. "About three of them buy licenses and then fifteen use them."

In addition to being a nuisance to shoppers, these watches are of poor quality & are sold under false pretenses. "These watches are bought in Montreal for about $75 per hundred," Mr. Ross said. "They are sold here for whatever the pedlars can get. In addition, these pedlars give out a 'sob story' about their wife being sick, or pregnant, or something, in order to get some sucker to buy the watches."

These watches, for the most part, are not stolen, he pointed out. They are of cheap manufacture, and there is no "come-back" on the guarantee when they break down. The police are almost helpless in stopping them, because as soon as a drive is put on to stop them, they disappear, only to return after the situation quietens down.

Requires More Skill To Operate Boat On Water, Than Car On Road

Speaking at the preview of the 1961 Scott motors held in Edmonton recently, Jim Eastwood, marketing manager, expressed great concern over the number of mishaps, some of them fatal. Mr. Eastwood gave it as his opinion that the great majority of these accidents were caused by the complete lack of knowledge of even the most elementary principles of practical seamanship, rather than deliberately reckless driving on the part of boat operators.

As Mr. Eastwood's views were so much in line with the views expressed in several articles published in Country Life last summer, this writer, who was privileged to attend as the representative of the Alberta Fish and Game Association, immediately went into a huddle with Inspector Murray and Sgt. Kennedy of the RCMP, and Jack Thorpe, the district representative for Scott Outboard Motors, to see if something positive cannot be done to get would-be boat owners to take some instruction in boat handling before they venture out in their own boats.

In the normal course of his duty, Sgt. Kennedy is often required to operate a moderately powered motor boat of conventional type on the larger northern lakes in all weather conditions, and claims that because of his training, his knowledge of seamanship, and his awareness of the capabilities of his craft, he can do so in perfect safety.

On being asked his opinion, this writer stated without any hesitation that it requires more skill to handle a motor boat safely than it does a wheeled vehicle on the highway because the steering, transmission, and braking systems on a boat do not have positive contact with a solid surface, so that the boat is always to some extent at the mercy of the elements. Furthermore, on the water quite unpredictable exigencies can, and often do arise very suddenly, which demand a foresight and initiative on the part of the operator which can only be acquired by experience and training.

Jack Thorpe announced his intention to call a meeting in the immediate future which representatives of the Safety Council, RCMP, Alberta Fish and Game Association and Beach Managers Association will be invited to attend, to formulate plans for increasing existing facilities for training boat operators, and exploring the possibility of having instructors located at all the principle resorts during the summer months.

On being informed of this decision, T. W. Pue of the Sun Publishing Co., gave whole-hearted approval of the project, and promised a full weekly coverage in all the 23 weekly papers under his control.
